

Parent presentation: Motivating Kids In Today's World

By: Paul Gasser

When: Thursday, April 20th at 6-7:30pm

Where: Ithaca School Library

Babysitting provided by Ithaca School District and students

What do you do when a child (or teenager) refuses to do their school-work or chores? Exactly how do you motivate a child who doesn't seem to respond to your requests? How do you, as a parent or caregiver, keep your cool and stay out of lecturing, reasoning, repeated warnings, threats and bribes? In this timely and much-needed presentation, Paul will provide you with practical and easy to learn strategies for the next time you face this type of challenge with your child. Have confidence in knowing what to say, and how to say it. Come and learn strategies to take some of the "work" out of getting your child to do their work.

Paul Gasser is a Marriage and Family Therapist for the Gundersen/St. Joseph Healthcare and instructor for the University of Wisconsin-Platteville and the Love and Logic Institute of Golden, CO. His experience with children and their families comes as a result of working over 30 years as a therapist and educator both in the United States, North Vietnam and Russia. He currently teaches a variety of workshops and courses throughout the United States on the topic of children and behavioral issues.

Hope to see you there!
